Testimonial: "My daughter is in the fifth grade and is in her first year at OLL. I am so very pleased with the challenges that fifth grade has given her so far. This has been such a positive change for my daughter. All her teachers have challenged her to do her very best and to not settle for less. I know she has only been here for a few months, but if this is any indication of what she is to expect in the coming years, we are in for a wonderful ride!"

For Students Grade 8 through College

Consider spending a week
this summer on a trip that will change your life!

“Going to El Salvador was life changing, not only because it was a heart wrenching spiritual journey, also because it was a trip in which I made lifetime friends. For me, El Salvador is so special because it is one of the clearest places to see the face of God.”

-Maggie Frodell

“The trip to El Salvador was a life changing experience. I’m sure you have heard that before. It is impossible to get away from that fact. I learned so much about the resilience of humankind. This very beautiful country has such devastating poverty. I feel humbled to be able to do my small part to help. Our three-year relationship with our sponsored child brings us much joy. You should really think about going, adults and teens alike. You’ll be so glad you did!

-Elisabeth Dolan

If you are interested in participating in this life-changing experience, come to an information meeting on Thursday, February 2, at 7 PM in the Parish Center.

Family Liturgy and Children’s Liturgy of the Word

We need your help -

At the 9:30 AM Family Liturgy each Sunday, we invite all of the children in attendance to be dismissed for their own Liturgy of the Word. There is a committee of parishioners that take responsibility for the planning, and for the Scriptural presentation itself.

Of course, everyone is invited to be on the committee or to be a Scripture leader, but what we really need is: People to help escort the children to the Parish Center and to stay in the Parish Center while the Scripture Leaders offer the presentation. You would only be scheduled about once a month, maybe every six weeks. You would escort and help with the children. Please consider this an easy way to contribute to our Family Liturgy; the entire committee would be extremely grateful! If you are interested or you have any questions, please contact Cathy Danowski at danowhouse@aol.com or call the Parish Office at 661.3224.

Bereavement Ministry

Pep 1 Program

Our Pep 1 classes are a beehive of activity! This group of students wins the prize for being great friends of Jesus! They are so bright that I thought the 4th graders came in their place! Watch for upcoming news of the great things they will be doing in the coming weeks!

Pep 2 Program

Our Pep 2 students received the Sacrament of Reconciliation this fall, and will begin their Eucharist preparation after the Christmas vacation. They have been very earnest about their participation in class, at home and at weekly worship. They are really great at singing their “Vine and Branch” song, too!

Pep 3 Program

After our “fishing trip” with Father Bob in the fall (did you know that the qualities of a good fisherman are the same ones needed for a good disciple?), we’re looking forward to the beginning of the classroom part of the program, which begins in January, with a great bagel breakfast!

Pep 4 Program

Our fourth graders are halfway through the classroom part of their program. We’re preparing a special family celebration in January – and we’re planning to have the children speak about their experience as pilgrims vs. nomads and how that impacts their spiritual growth. We also collected about 400 children’s books which have gone to the Learning Connection in Brentwood — an educational venue for women learning English as a second language. Many of them never had a book of their own, and they want to be able to read to their children. Our wonderful youngsters not only brought in their favorite books, but wrote letters to the children who would receive them. Who knows – a pen-pal exchange might begin! I’m very proud of them!

Are You Ready...Get set... in 2012!

Grade 8... they're great

All Grade 8 Confirmation Candidates will meet with their Sponsors... for...
RESCUE... "Religious Education Sponsor Candidate United Effort"...with a kick-off some Sunday afternoons in January .

This night of prayer and reflection will provide them with an opportunity to learn about their new roles as sponsors and candidates, hear personal reflections about what it means to be a sponsor and commit to take a more active role in this process. Each evening will conclude with Sunday's 6 PM Mass. Sponsors and candidates plan to meet together three times on their own... including doing some service together. Sponsors and candidates work together at a soup kitchen or cook a meal for a soup kitchen, help an elder adult, help with Parish Outreach, etc., etc. Let's continue to pray for our parish's Confirmation Candidates.

4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Athletes put hours into practice. It is not enough just to play the game. In practice a person learns the moves, discovers how muscles respond, trains all aspects of his or her body, and over time becomes so proficient at the selected sport that she or he can intuitively react during play. Practice in sports helps the athlete develop self-confidence. The same holds true for the musician, the salesperson, the new teacher. When an individual takes up something new he or she may initially be a bit shaky at it. Over time, we develop the skills so that something becomes second nature. A confident team takes to the field or the court with the belief that they will win.

In today's Gospel, Jesus is the confident, self-assured teacher. Yes, he works a miracle. But before we get caught up in that, we should look at how Mark portrays him. Right at the beginning of the Gospel, Jesus enters the synagogue in Capernaum and starts to teach. Unlike the scribes who would appeal to the words of Jewish teachers to support their teaching, Jesus comes across as confident in his own authority. He has no need to reference what others have handed on. Instead, his teaching commands respect because he shows its truth through his deeds.

Like the athlete who is confident in his game, we can become confident in our faith by practicing it. As we see in the Gospel from the very first chapter of Mark, Jesus was confident in both word and deed. We can do the same. By reading the Scriptures regularly we become attuned to Christ's teaching. We absorb the knowledge, just as any good athlete memorizes all the plays. And by acting on Christ's teaching through our worship of God and love of neighbor we are performing the deeds of faith. The skills become second nature as we put into practice what we have been taught by Christ.

Some Hymns for Justice

by Ron Rolheiser, OMI

The great Jewish prophets, the forerunners of Jesus, coined a mantra which ran something like this: The quality of your faith will be judged by the quality of justice in the land and the quality of justice in the land will be judged by how “widows, orphans, and strangers” (biblical code for the three most vulnerable groups in society) fared while you were alive.

Jesus wouldn't disagree. When he describes the last judgment at the end of Matthew's Gospel, he tells us that this judgment will not be, first of all, about right doctrine, good theology, church attendance, or even personal piety and sexual morality, but about how we treated the poor. Nobody gets to heaven without a letter of reference from the poor. Jesus and the great biblical prophets make that clear.

This has also been made clear in the social encyclicals of the Roman Catholic church during the past 150 years, most recently in the social encyclicals of John Paul II. We see this, as well, in the prophetic traditions within all the Christian churches and in some of the great individual Christians who have touched our lives during this past century: Mother Theresa, Dorothy Day, Oscar Romero, Thomas Merton, Martin Luther King, William Stringfellow, and Catherine Doherty, among others. We also see this challenge in our own generation in the work and writings of persons such as Bishop Tutu, Nelson Mandela, Jean Vanier, Henri Nouwen, Daniel Berrigan, Bryan Hehir, and Jim Wallis. Granted, this challenge to justice doesn't negate other religious and moral obligations, but it does remain always as a fundamental, non-negotiable, principle: We are going to be judged by how the most vulnerable groups (“widows, orphans, and strangers”) fared while we were alive and practicing our faith. The challenge is a strong one.

Sometimes it's helpful to sing our truths, both so that rhyme and rhythm can etch the words more indelibly into our consciousness and that the chant itself can help increase our courage and resolve. Here are some justice hymns:

- We need to be on fire again because our hope is no longer an easy one.

We live in a culture of despair where Pentecost can no longer be taken for granted.

We must refuse to make the Holy Spirit a piece of private property, but a spirit that matters. (Mary Jo Leddy)

- Looking at a picture of our Lord on the Cross, I was struck by the blood flowing from one of his divine hands. I felt a pang of great sorrow when thinking this blood is falling on the ground without anyone's hastening to gather it up. I was resolved to remain in spirit at the foot of the Cross and to receive its dew. I shall spend my life gathering it up. (Therese of Lisieux)

- The wages of work is cash. The wages of cash is want of more cash.. The wages of want more cash is vicious competition.. The wages of vicious competition is - the world we live in.

(D.H. Lawrence)

- There are Seven Social Sins: Politics without principle; Wealth without work; Commerce without morality; Pleasure without conscience; Education without character; Science without humanity; Worship without sacrifice. (Mohandas Gandhi)

- Strength without compassion is violence. Compassion without justice is sentiment. Justice without love is Marxism. And ... love without justice is baloney! (Cardinal Sin)

- We are not, but could be.

We don't speak languages, but dialects.

We don't have religions, but superstitions.

We don't create art, but handicrafts.

We don't have a culture, but folklore.

We are not human beings, but human resources.

We do not have face, but arms.

We do not have names, but numbers.

We do not appear in the history of the world, but in the police blotter of the local paper.

The nobodies, who are not worth the bullets that kill them.

(Edward Galeano, The Nobodies)

- In the world's schema of things, survival of the fittest is the rule.

In God's schema, survival of the weakest is the rule.

(Alphonse Keuter)

- It is not possible to create a world in which no innocent people suffer, but it is possible to create a world in which fewer innocent people suffer. (Bryan Hehir)

- We don't want your money; we can steal that from you when we need it. We need you to lead us back to God, and to give us jobs.

(A Gang leader to a group of church and business leader)

- Lost is a place, too. (Christina Crawford)

- You could say that, if you are walking down the roads of life these days, and looking for a piece of God or for some spirit by which to guide your life, you should be looking down. For is God is going to be found these days, it's going to be small things. It's going to be close to the ground. It may even be below the ground. Looking for God, these days requires the willingness to investigate the small, to descend. To look down. To look down. To look down.

2012 Catholic Ministries Appeal

One Faith. One Hope. Many Gifts

A Letter from Bishop Murphy

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

As we launch the 2012 Catholic Ministries Appeal, Fr. Mike Vetrano and I extend our deepest thanks for your prayers and previous financial support. Together we share in the mission of Jesus as we work to build God's Kingdom here on Long Island. Last year more than 600,000 people were touched your generosity and the generosity of your fellow parishioners.

Whether it is the needy being assisted through Catholic Charities, our children being formed in their faith through religious education programs, a young man or woman discerning a religious vocation or parishioners deepening their faith through ongoing formation and sacramental participation, so many Long Islanders depend on the Church and the support provided by the Catholic Ministries Appeal.

Through this Appeal, we are supporting the mission of our Church. Our sacrifices are transformed into signs of God's love and hope through ministries that give us the opportunity to live and share our faith, to care for God's people and to help build the Kingdom of God, bringing us together to Belong More Deeply to the Lord, the Church and to one another.

We are so grateful for your last gift to the Catholic Ministries Appeal. Please reflect upon your blessings and, if possible, consider increasing your support. Thank you for all you have done, and all you will do to be a sign of God's love to others.

With my gratitude and prayers, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ William Murphy

Spiritual Care Companions Needed

Catholic Health Services of Long Island will hold a training program for volunteers interested in becoming Spiritual Care Companions. Some of our parishioners have taken the program and found it helpful in their ministry as well as in their own personal lives. The free program will offer individuals the skills necessary for caring and listening to people who are sick or elderly.

Those interested may attend an information session on Tuesday, February 7 from 9:30 – 11:30am at Our Lady of Consolation, West Islip. There will be six training sessions which will run from February 28 – April 3. Spanish–speaking volunteers are particularly needed. For further information, call Carol Cella at 465-6307 or Trish Luvin at 465-6306

Sharing the Gospel

Grass stains. Tomato sauce. Brightly colored fruit drinks. When these nasty stains stick to your clothes, it is tough to get them out. Regular soap won't work. You need something stronger. Jesus is really strong, too. In today's Gospel, a nasty evil spirit screamed when it saw Jesus. Jesus was so powerful, he cleaned that evil spirit right out.

Mission for the Week

Make a new label for your family's stain pre-treatment bottle. Trace around the bottle, write Mark 1:21-28 in big letters, and decorate your label with a picture of Jesus. Tape your new label to the bottle so you and your parents remember how strong Jesus is.
